1. INTRODUCTION

Planning is the first and most important function of management. In the absence of planning, all the activities of an organisation will become meaningless. The importance of planning in conduct of election has increased all the more in view of the increasing complexities and multifarious activities. The District Election Officer leads the election at District level. They have to prepare for logistics, deployment and capacity building of human resource, increase participation of different stakeholders in the election process, identify the possible vulnerable areas and address them suitably so that the elections are conducted in a free and fair manner. The District Election Management Plan (DEMP in brief) is a document which helps in planning for election preparations at a glance. It presents the essential work to be done in various aspects of election process. The DEMP uses statistics and its analysis for drawing conclusions from it and undertaking detailed and focused planning for conduct of elections in a smooth manner. The Manual on District Election Management Plan is divided into 17 chapters. Information is mostly prepared in tabular format. As per the Election Planner of Election Commission of India, the DEMP is to be prepared at least 6 months before the tentative Poll Day. Preparation of DEMP in advance helps in assessing status and requirements of AMF at Polling Stations, EVM and other logistics, manpower, training, transportation, security force requirement, SVEEP etc. However, many things become clearer as the election is notified and campaign starts formally. So, it becomes necessary to revise/ update the plan from time to time. Also, the DEO should get prepared AC-wise election management plans and sector level plans on these lines.

2. DISTRICT BRIEF PROFILE

2.1 DISTRICT POLITICAL MAP

2.2 Overview of North Kolkata

North Kolkata, the historic heart of the city, officially demarcated as Kolkata North parliamentary constituency is nothing but the vibrant blend of colonial history, culture, and spirituality. Starting from different historic Rajbari's, Ghats of Ganga on one hand and architectural splendour of Dalhousie square to open book hub at College square on the other.

Let us travel through time at the Historic Markets

North Kolkata is famous for its some of the most vibrant markets in the world. From the winding lanes of Burrabazar and Posta market to the hustle and bustle of New Market, the legacies of the British Raj remain alive and well in the city's traditional markets like Sealdah Koley market (famous for 24 hours vegetables and fruits market), College Street market, Entally market, Hogg Market and obviously Maniktala bazar (famous for one of the biggest fish markets). The energy and excitement are palpable, as people chatting, haggling and gossiping 24 hours, while a flurry of colours, textures, and flavours are also filled in the air.

Now let us walk through time at the sacred Ghats of Ganga!

The Hooghly, this iconic river which is an offshoot of the mighty and sacred Ganges, has been eternally linked to the religious activities of North Kolkata. The actual life-line of trade which flourished on account of the Hooghly made Kolkata the capital of India at one time in history. Be it Life or death, both are celebrated and solemnised from Jagannath Ghat to Bagbazar Mayer Ghat, from Chandpal Ghat to Armenian Ghat, from Ahiritola Ghat to Nimtala burning Ghat etc. Jagannath Ghat stands on the eastern banks of the Hooghly River near Strand Road, opposite the Burra Bazaar area. The ghat was made by Sobharam Basak, a devout devotee of Lord Jagannath. Ahiritola Ghat derived its name from the practice of Milkmen using the ghat to bathe their cows and buffaloes. Nimtala Burning Ghat, located on Beadon Street, was constructed in 1827 and is considered one of the holiest ghats in the country and a place to attain Moksha, thereby breaking the cycle of life and death. After Manikarnika Ghat, Nimtala occupies an air of relevance. It is said that the first cremation happened in 1717, but legends speak about cremation happening even 2000 years before. The Armenians were among the earliest people to come to visit Kolkata. Armenian Ghat is carrying their legacy of heritage and history. Get off at Baghbazar More, walk towards the railway line and you'll see a beautiful, tranquil ghat right in the heart of the city. Also known as the Mayer Ghat, this is one of the few ghats in the city. This ancient ghat is where Sarada Ma spent her final days. Walk around the ghat and you'll spot a couple of platforms made for the evening aarti.

Come to the cultural iconic places of Literary Haven!

North Kolkata boasts iconic places centred around Bengali literature and colonial history. Key spots include College Street Open Book Market (Boi Para, the world's second-largest second-hand book market), the historic Indian Coffee House, University of Calcutta, Presidency College (now University), Sanskrit College and University, Hare School, Hindu School, Hare School, Bethune School, Bagbazar Sister Nivedita Girls' School, Medical College, Calcutta (where Asia's first autopsy was done), Jorasanko Thakur Bari (Tagore's home), Bangiya Sahitya Parishad and the number is countless. A walk through North Kolkata's literary heart is like poetry in motion. North Kolkata is the area of firsts and a street of ideas. At Hare School, the first recital of the day took place. From Sanskrit College towards the Indian Coffee House, a place synonymous with adda of Bibhutibhusan Bandyopadhyay, Satyajit Ray, Amartya Sen, Sunil Gangopadhyay, Rajsekhar Basu and countless names are there. Calcutta University can tell you the story of Bankim Chandra Chattopadhyay's days as a student, recounting the little-known tale of how he failed a language test, only to be promoted with grace marks — an irony, considering his later eminence as the writer of Vande Mataram. Then from Rajendra Prasad to Subhas Chandra Bose, Bidhan Chandra Roy to Jibanananda Das: Swami Vivekananda to Mrinal Sen, Kadambini Ganguly & Chandramukhi Basu to Pankaj Mullick all are alumni of this University. Founded in 1849 by John Elliot Drinkwater Bethune in Kolkata, the Bethune School (originally Hindu Female School) is a pioneering institution for women's education in India. Supported by Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar, it became the first women's college in Asia in 1879, fostering trailblazing alumni like Kadambini Ganguly.

Visiting legendary famous Religious Sites!

North Kolkata hosts many churches, temples and mosques along with other religious places. North Kolkata is also famous for the citadel of Sri Ramakrishna order. Cossipore Ramakrishna Mission Math is the place where Sri Ramakrishna order first started and where Narendranath Datta, later known as Swami Vivekananda and eight other disciples, took first their formal monastic vows. Sister Nivedita came and lived in 53/1 Bosepara Lane and later opened Sister Nivedita Girls' School on 13 November 1898 at 16, Bosepara Lane, in the presence of Sarada Ma, Swami Vivekananda, Swami Brahmananda, Swami Saradanandane. On one side stood Balaram Bose's house, the 'Calcutta Citadel' of Sri Ramakrishna, where his disciples repaired for rest. On its north-east is the huge family mansion of Girish Chandra Ghosh. A little to its north was the Holy Mother i.e. Maa Sarada's house. The office of Udbodhan, the magazine founded by Swami Vivekananda, is also located in Bagbazar. Ancestral house of Swami Vivekananda and now a cultural centre is at Simla Street, Vivekananda Road. One of the best examples of harmonious existence and assimilation of different faiths and communities is the Chinese Kali Temple, Chinatown. This is in the only Chinatown of India in Kolkata at Tangra. Chitpur Chitteswari Kali Temple, Thanthania Kali Bari and Firingi Kali Bari are the major three oldest Kali temples of North Kolkata. Kumartuli is the place of traditional potters' quarter where idols for Durga Puja are crafted. College Street is the place where anyone will find Mahabodhi Society, founded by Sri Lankan Buddhist leader Angarika Dharmapala in 1892 — as well as the Bengal Theosophical Society, and the Baptist Mission, with a striking Gothic structure. Parashnath Jain Temple is nothing but the stunning, ornate temple complex known for its architecture and beautiful gardens at Maniktala. Basri Shah Mosque, built in 1804, it is the oldest mosque of Kolkata. Nakhoda Mosque has stepped onto the centenary year in 2026. Kolkata's Jews are mostly Baghdadi Jews who came to North Kolkata to trade. Magen David Synagogue (or the "Shield of David") is located at the junction of Brabourne Road and Canning Street (Biplabi Rashbehari Road) in North Kolkata. The Moroccan-style Mausoleum of Job Charnock in the compound of St. John's Church at Dalhousie area is also at North Kolkata. Mother's House is also at Ripon Street, Entally area of North Kolkata.

Taste the glory dreams of Rajbari

Calcutta being the capital of the Raj, has exemplary remnants of neo-classical buildings which focus on a curious case of hybridization as the English mixed indigenous and Islamic features into the city's architecture. Kolkata's rajbaris (traditional zamindar palaces) are grand heritage homes featuring colonnaded verandahs, inner courtyards, and, for many, restored luxury stays or opulent Durga Pujas. Sovabazar Rajbaris one of the oldest and most prominent rajbaris, noted for its historic and elaborate Durga Puja celebrations, often visited for its cultural significance. Belgachia Rajbari was a center of culture and was even connected to the Tagore family. The Jorasanko Thakur Bari, the ancestral house of the Tagore family has been turned into a museum displaying objects used by Rabindranath Tagore and other family members as well as their work. The beautiful 19th century Marble Palace mansion was built by a rich Bengali merchant, Raja Rajendra Mullick in 1835. The galleries of the mansion are overstuffed with statues, portraits, mirrors, chandeliers and paintings that are by English, Dutch and Italian artists. Jogendra Mohan Tagore of Pathuriaghata Rajbari, helped Ishwar Chandra Gupta to publish Sambad Prabhakar, first weekly newspaper in Bengali in 1831.

Heritage walk at Dalhousie square

In one of the busiest streets of Kolkata known popularly as B.B.D. Bag lies the red stone structures known as the Writers' Buildings and Lalbazar. Writers' Buildings, the main office of the East India Company was inspired by the Indo-Saracenic Revival architectural style. Lalbazar, established in 1864, is primarily known as the headquarters of the Kolkata Police. GPO i.e. General Post Office was the first post office of India since 1727. The GPO is notable for its imposing high domed roof (rising over 220 feet) and tall Ionic-Corinthian pillars.

Truly, Kolkata is the "City of Joy" as north Kolkata is there!

2.4 BRIEF NOTES ON THE DISTRICT

- 1) General: North Kolkata is the oldest part of the city. Characterized by 19th-century architecture and narrow alleyways, it includes areas such as Shyambazar, Shobhabazar, Chitpur, Cossipore, Baranagar, Sinthee and Dum Dum. Central Kolkata hosts the central business district. It contains B.B.D. Bag, formerly known as Dalhousie Square, and the Esplanade on its east; Strand Road is on its west. The West Bengal Secretariat, General Post Office, Reserve Bank of India, High Court, Lalbazar Police Headquarters, and several other government and private offices are located there.
- 2) Administrative: The District Election Officer, Kolkata (North) is the Head of the Office.

- 3) Demography: According to results of the 2011 national census, Kolkata district, which occupies an area of 185 km², had a population of 4,486,679; its population density was 24,252/km². This represents a decline of 1.88% during the decade 2001–11. The sex ratio is 908 females per 1000 males—lower than the national average. The ratio is depressed by the influx of working males from surrounding rural areas, from the rest of West Bengal, and from neighbouring states, mainly Bihar, Uttar Pradesh, and Orissa; these men commonly leave their families behind.
- 4) Bengali persons form the majority of Kolkata's population; Marwaris and Biharis compose large minorities. Among Kolkata's smaller communities are Chinese, Tamils, Nepalis, Odias, Telugus, Gujaratis, Anglo-Indians, Armenians, Greeks, Tibetans etc. Bengali, the official state language, is the dominant language in Kolkata. English is also used extensively. Hindi and Urdu are spoken by a sizeable minority.
- 5) Terrain: Kolkata is located in the eastern part of India with a latitude & longitude of 22.5667° N, 88.3667° E, respectively. It has spread linearly along the banks of the Hooghly River. The whole area is in the Ganges Delta and is monotonously plain. As with most of the Indo-Gangetic Plain, the soil and water are predominantly alluvial in origin. Kolkata is located over the “Bengal basin”.
- 6) Socio-economic and cultural peculiarities: Kolkata is the main business, commercial and financial hub of eastern India and the main port of communication for the North-East Indian states, It is one of the most important metros of India.

Kolkata has been the pioneering city in Indian renaissance. It has long been known for its literary, artistic and revolutionary heritage. As the former capital of India, and now known as the "Cultural Capital of India", not only Kolkata, but Bengal was the birthplace of modern Indian literary, artistic and scholastic thought.

- 7) Infrastructure availability: All types of infrastructural facilities are readily available.
- 8) Places which are generally inaccessible or difficult to reach: No such type of places is present in the jurisdiction of Kolkata North District.
- 9) Resource availability: All types of resources like manpower, logistical support and IT related facilities are available.
- 10) Weather & Periods of inaccessibility: Kolkata has a Tropical wet-and-dry climate. The annual mean temperature is 24.8 °C (80 °F); monthly mean temperatures range from 15 °C to 30 °C (59 °F to 86 °F). Summers are hot and humid with temperatures in the low 30's and during dry spells the maximum temperatures often exceed 40 °C (104 °F) during May and June. Winter tends to last for only about two and a half months, with seasonal lows dipping to 9 °C -11 °C (48.2 °F - 51.8 °F) between December and January. Places that are inaccessible in various periods are not presents in the jurisdiction of Kolkata North District.
- 11) General law & order situation: The overall security and Law & Order situation is congenial for holding free & fair election. Relation between the political parties in the district is also very cordial, Assembly Constituency wise Law & Order situation is mentioned below: -
